I got the BC, T mold chip at the convention 2011. It was with a number of illegals I got from one person.

BC chip was with 2 colors of the Greyhound Harp molds from Cicero, IL. Shades of Al Capone flashed through my mind. <g> Big Al is long gone by this time but his legacy and close associates linger on.

Info on Greyhound coming in a future "illegal Of The Day" post.

He only had 4 of the BC's. I snatched one and told 3 other IL illegal collectors to get them as I had a hunch they were good ones. I think Mike, Rick, and David got there in time to get them.

The Taylor record card was disappointing. So much for that hunch! Very large orders 1952-57 but no real ID. Counter orders with (Barton) on the order. The Chicago outfit owned Taylor and lots of their boys orders were counter orders, some with no names on them. At least (Barton) was a starting place.

Sometimes research is easy, sometimes it is tough. This one was extremely tough! <g> I had to email our two resident Chicago illegal experts John Binder and Dave Brown. Must have taken me 5 minutes. <g>

Special thank you, to both of you for great information sharing.

I gave our "Friend Of The Hobby" a break on this one. <g>

It is amazing how many people we have that are willing to share their information.

Enough of that:

Chips delivered 1952-57

Per Taylor records only 56 black $10 chips were made. Do we have a dreaded "R" word illegal chip? IMO, YES! Mike, Rick, and David owe me a commission! <g>

Here is some info:

There was a Barton Club in Cicero. May or may not be a connection to Bobby Barton who was Jack Guzik's body guard. I'll send more information later.

A Robert "Bobbie" Barton was chauffeur for Johnny Torrio...he was there when Torrio was shot ca1925. He was driving a car belonging to Jack Guzik. Barton was wounded in that incident. During Jack Guzik's tax trial a witness testified that the gambling profits were delivered to Bobbie Barton, Guzik's chauffeur...so Barton was involved in the gambling operations for Jack Guzik and Capone.

Sylvester Barton was Bobbie Barton's brother and Al Capone's chauffeur.

Circa 1933 a Dan Barton was front/owner of record for the 100 Club, 100 E. Superior, Chicago.

From Taylor sales records:

"JMB", harp mold Ted Svoboda, 2316 S. Cicero Ave., Cicero 300 chips in 1941

Is JMB Barton? Not sure

Gene

I don't have much on Barton Club, but I'm sending you some scraps that may mesh with what you can find out from other sources.

It's interesting that the name appearing on the "JMB" harp mold order, Ted Svoboda, was the police chief in Cicero back in the Capone era. There were some Barton's that chauffeured for Capone gang, but none matching the initials on the JMB chip. A Dan Barton was owner or front man for the "Club 100" a mob run night club and gambling spot downtown.

CICERO'S CHIEF FACES INQUIRY BY GRAND JURY

Evidence of gambling operations in Cicero will be presented to the September grand jury, State's Atty. Boyle'announced yesterday after he had received another batch of reports from investigators in the suburb.

The state's attorney, who has sent nine warning letters to Christopher Rooney, Cicero police chief, informing him of places where gambling was under way, said he was "all thru" writing letters to the chief. The ninth letter was not sent by mail, but was delivered into Rooney's hands by a policeman on Aug, 16.

Bookles Found Operating Investigators for the prosecutor on Aug, 16 found handbooks running at 4634 Cermak rd, and at 1312 S. Cicero ay. On Aug, 17, the investigators found 50 persons gambling at the Barton club, 2320 S. Cicero av., and that the handbook at 1312 S. Cicero had moved to 1336-S. Cicero av.

On Aug. 20 the Barton club had 85 customers and the Circle Bar, 5534 Cermak rd., was taking bets from 50 patrons, the investigators reported.
Club's Patronage Increases
Boyle noted that, since his last warning letter to Rooney, the num-became chief last April 18 as the appointee of Cicero's new board president, Henry J. Sandusky, Democratic committeeman.

At that time Rooney announced he would permit no gambling, syndicate or free lance, and that he would co-operate with Boyle's efforts to keep the town free of the hoodlum elements that plagued it for many years.

hoodium elements that plagued it for many years.

Presumably Boyle planned to-present to the grand jury evidence-on which to base a charge of misfeasance in office against Rooney, Such a charge is pending against Robert Wigglesworth, Melrose Park chief of police.

Sherif Walsh said his deputies had made raids on gambling estab-lishments in Cicero, but that none had been made recently because had been made recently because he had not received any com-plaints from the suburb. Ordinarily, he said, his anti-gambling raiders worked in unincorporated areas, moving into cities and villages, only in response to specific complaints.

A direct link between Cicero gangsters and an eastern Mafia group has been discovered by federal agents. THE TRIBUNE learned exclusively yesterday.

It is the first mater breakthru by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in a nearly year-long probe of possible interstate ties between the vice and gambling den opcrators in Cicero and crime syndicate hoodlums in other

Plan to Yank Licenses

Disclosure of the gangland traffic was made in information turned over to the Illinois Liquor Control commission as liquor license revocation procredings were instituted against three more Cicero vice dens for apparent fraud in obtaining Licenses

Identified as a key figure in the Cicero mob connections with the Magaddino Mafia family in Buffalo, N. Y., is Alphonse Carlisi, 53, liquor licensee of Al's Place, 3500 S. Laramie av., Cicero, a joint located across the street from Sportsman's Park race track.

As disclosed in the information given state authorities, Carlisi admitted constant telephone communication with his older brother. Roy [The Clam Manl Carlisi, 58, a Buffalo crime syndicate chieftain.

Cosa Nostra Aid

The older Carlisi was identified as a top lieutenant of Ste-fano Magaddino, Buffalo Cosa Nostra boss, and was among 36 men seized May 9 by the FBI and state and local police in a raid on an upper-echelon gangland meeting in a Buffalo restauran

Roy Carlisi was also among 65 men arrested by New York state poice in 1957 at the infamous Appalachin Mafia meeting. Magaddino has been named as Malia rackets boss of western New York and the Ohio river valley.

Drago, was the apparent link between the gangland mob bossed by Fiore [Fifi] Buc-cieri and Joseph [The Doves] Aluppa in Cicero, and Mafia connections in the east.

Mob's Many Interests

The Cicero mob masterminds a network of vice and gambling joints, loan shark operations. juke box racketeering, and lesser hoodlum functions such as the activity of cartage thieves, burglars, and stick-up men. As such, many of its functions involve interstate transactions, investigators said.

Howard Cartwright, Illinois Liquor Control commission chairman, ordered that the Carlisi cocktail lounge and two other Cicero joints be cited to appear at hearings to explore the legality of their licenses,

An FBI investigation of Carlisi's activity disclosed that he is in apparent violation of a state law requiring that a license holder live in the community in which he is licensed.

On his license applications, which were approved by Cicero town officials, Carlisi has re-peatedly listed two Cicero addresses as his home. They are 4901 W. 30th pl., and more re-cently 3500 S. Laramie av., the address of Al's Place.

Lives in Berkely

Actually, investigators found that Carlisi lives at 5837 Maple st., Berkely, where he is listed as a registered voter and where he has his automobile driver licenses registered. Until last July, he operated the Starlite more than $100,000 a year.

Investigators reported that lounge at 4901 W. 30th pl., an-Alphonse Carlisi, who often other of the addresses where he uses the alias of Alphonso has claimed residency, records show

Carlisi, whose brother Sam Drago also is an associate of Buccieri, has an arrest record dating back to 1937. In 1965 and 1966 Carlisi purchased $250 federal gaming device stamps for the Starlite lounge. He has admitted to federal agents that he lives in Berkeley and not Cicero.

Two other Cicero joints were cited for hearings by Cart-wright. They are Harry's lounge, 2320 S. Cicero av., longtime B-girl and gambling cen-ter, and the 2900 Club, 2900 S. Cicero av., recently raided as a bookmaking headquarters.

Lives in N. Riverside

Peter H. Contos, 34, licensee of Harry's lounge, admitted to investigators, the liquor commission was told, that he did not live at 5014 W. 25th st., Cicero, but instead lives in a $35,000 home at 8646 W. 26th st., North Riverside.

This is the same address he gave sheriff's police when he was one of 17 persons arrested by them in a series of gambling raids on joints including Harry's Lounge.

Located in Hotel

Contos, who is a university graduate, told investigators that altho he has been exposed to higher education, the Cicero tavern business is too lucrative to pass up. Reports to Chairman Cartwright indicate Contos admits personal annual earnings of nearly $18,000, while Harry's lounge grosses

The joint is located in the Barton hotel, 2318 S. Cicero av., Cicero, a notorious gambling location

Mario F. Caputo, 36, licensee of the 2900 Club, was cited by the liquor commission after FBI men determined he lives at 3513 W. Madison st., Bellwood, instead of at the tavern in Cicero. Caputo, who has been arrested under the alias Robert Zito, was seized Sept. 28 after a clearing house was raided above the tavern.
